COICOM 2009 - PRESS RELEASE

Mar del Plata, Argentina

During the week of the 25th to the 29th of August more than two thousand, three hundred participants coming from over 22 countries met recently at the Sheraton Hotel and Convention Center in Mar del Plata - Argentina.

The 18th international convention of COICOM had more than eighty guest speakers which addressed a host of topics concerning church growth, church media, evangelism and missions, mass media, and leadership issues.

During the convention COICOM hosted the First Transformation Consultation Summit. More than six hundred influential leaders participated representing movements such as COMIBAM (Latin American Missions Cooperation); CONELA (Latin American Association of Evangelical Churches) TRANSFORMA LATIN AMERICA; LAUSANNE MOVEMENT and COICOM. The consultation touched on five spheres of influence concerning: family and education; leadership and governance; evangelism and missions; mass media and the arts; economy and finances. The results of this consultation will be published in a resource package and distributed to the various participants and countries.

Another first in the COICOM convention this year was the First Summit of Pastoral Associations of Argentina. More than three hundred Presidents and Leaders representing the various Pastoral councils met during one day to address issues concerning the state of evangelism and missions in Argentina.

The COICOM 2009 convention closed with a great mandate to all participants to carry the message back to their respective countries and motivating them to teach and equip their churches in seeking the transformation of their nations.

COICOM 2010 will be held in the Dominican Republic and it is hoped that it will once again gather thousands of influential leaders coming from all over the Americas.
